Day 1)

Transfer from the airport or from your hotel to Chalong, where the ship is moored. At 11 AM, you can board the Amadeus and settle into your cabin. After an orientation by the Captain, the Amadeus sets off at around 11:30 AM.

In about two hours, we will reach the Koh Mai Thon Island, where you can enjoy the warm, clear waters of the Indian Ocean.

Then you will have your first taste of our chef 's delicious cooking. After lunch, we will set sail again, this time for Ko Phi Phi Don.

There you can wander through the streets, have a drink at a bar, or relax with a massage. In the evening, enjoy a wonderful dinner aboard the ship. This will be our first overnight location.

Day 2)

We set sail for Kantiang Beach in Ko Lanta, This is one of the larger islands and it offers great beaches and the island is covered with natural forests inviting you to join for a walk to a waterfall. Good shoes are required, as you will be partially walking through the stream to reach the waterfall. After you return, we sail a bit further South to a secluded anchorage and here we have a great small restaurant with excellent Thai cuisine. This will give you the chance to eat out for a change and experience real Thai hospitality. (The dinner and drinks on shore are not included in the price).

Day 3)

On this day, breakfast will be served while we sail. Our destination: Ko Muk Island.

Here you can visit the Emerald Cave, where a breath-taking surprise awaits you.

Once again, we will hoist our big sails, and with good wind, we should reach Ko Rok Nok Island in about two hours. This area is world-famous for its snorkeling and diving, and it boasts the most beautiful beach of the Andaman Sea.

The water is crystal clear, and the range of sea life in the Coral Sea will amaze you. In the evening, we'll set up a barbecue on the white sand, which you can enjoy under a beautiful sunset.

Day 4)

You really won't want to leave right away. Before we set off, make sure to take one last dip in this gorgeous natural setting.

On the way to Ko Phi Phi Leh, we will stop for more snorkeling at Ko Ha. You might be able to catch some tuna for very fresh sashimi along the way.

Just in time for a spectacular sunset, we arrive at Maya Bay. This is where the film "The Beach" was shot. We will spend the night in this beautiful bay, which is one of the TOP TEN sights of our planet.

PLEASE NOTE: Maya Bay is closed until further notice; we will anchor at another beautiful bay nearby.

Day 5)

At seven in the morning, the world is just waking up. Enjoy a fresh cup of coffee as you contemplate the morning light at Phi Phi Island.

After a nice breakfast, we set sail and head to Ko Racha Yai Island.

With luck, you might be able to see a pod of bottlenose dolphins along the way.

The bay we will spend the night in is very secluded, and there will be different activities possible there before we drop anchor.

The water is clear as glass, and you can lure the most colorful fish towards you with just some rice.

Day 6)

After breakfast, the ship will take you back to Phuket's Chalong Bay. We will arrive around 11 a.m., and you will disembark with unforgettable memories. Of course, we will make sure get you to the airport on time, or take you to your hotel.
